1. What are the Zen pinball pack types and prices on the Legends 4K machines?

A: There will be 4 types of Zen pinball packs on the Legends 4K line of machines (ALP 4KP Standard Edition, ALP 4KP Collector's Edition Pinball, ALU 4KP). They are Legends Packs at $25, Legends Mini Packs at $15, Legends Singles Premium at $15, and Legends Singles at $5. Legends Packs have the most table amounts. Mini Packs contain fewer tables. Single Premiums and Singles have just one table each in it.

2. How many Zen packs are planned on the Legends 4K machines?

A: There are over 40 Zen packs planned with more to be added as Zen publishes fresh tables.

3. Can a Zen Mini Pack or a Zen Single Pack be installed on any AtGames 4K device?

A: Yes, all Zen Legends Packs can be installed on any AtGames 4K device.

4. Why are you doing Legends Single Premium, Legends Single, and Legends Mini packs?

A: The Zen packs contents, price, etc. are determined by many factors, reflecting the direction from our collaborative partner and the licensors of the intellectual property (IP) involved. Such direction includes how or if a specific table may be bundled with other tables.

5. Why do some Zen tables/packs have different prices than other similar tables/packs?

A: Different IPs have different costs associated with them. This can include movie/video game/TV studio royalties, actor likeness approvals and/or royalties, etc. The cost to develop certain tables may be more expensive as well due to the complexity of the table. Many factors go into the price and selling of these tables/packs.

6. What if I purchase a Zen pack and decide I do not like it, can I get a refund?

A: All digital sales are final and non-refundable. This is in line with many companies worldwide and is a standard practice for digital sales.

7. How come I don't see my Zen pinball packs I purchased on my ALP/ALU HD?

A: Due to hardware/software limitations, all Zen Studios produced tables will only be available on the Legends 4K line of machines.

8. Will there ever be any discounts on the Zen table packs?

A: We host several sales events a year, including, but not limited to, our quarterly National Owner's Day (NOD) events. Many of our products, including pinball packs, do go on sale during those events. However, there is never a guarantee that any one particular pack will be on sale.

9. Why are AtGames Zen packs a different price than the Zen Steam/XBox/PS5/etc. versions?

The packs that Zen is developing for Legends 4K line of machines and ecosystem require substantial unique work from the developer. This includes integrating a default three screen system, SSF support, accelerometer, etc. This can lead to increased costs for table development as it is not a simple porting of the original game.

10. What are the Zen packs that will be released* for preorders in December 2023?

*The table list is for reference only and not listed in any particular release order.
